MANUFACTURING

Achieving & sustaining operational excellence

Global Systems has been dedicated to providing the highest level of quality in the visual display marketplace. Always striving to improve, as surface materials improved, we integrated those materials into our products, moving from the inexpensive melamine board surface, which has inherent problems with eraseability and "ghosting" to the unmatched, high performance porcelain coated steel surfaces, that our line of PRESBO-SIGNS Visual Display products now utilize

The toughest standards for the finest results

Quality in the manufacturing process is a critical component to the success of PRESBO-SIGNS Visual Systems. Stringent Quality Control Procedures have been incorporated throughout the entire manufacturing process. Quality control procedures that are followed daily include, inspection, verification and documentation for all in-coming raw materials, inspection and documentation during sub-assembly, in-process assembly and final assembly inspection, to ensure that what the customer has ordered is what will go out the door. All shipments leaving our facility are verified to minute packaging in accordance with company procedures. No stone is left unturned in order to ensure the final product received by our customer, meets the level of quality that they expect and deserve.
